Abstract: In the process of building a New Uzbekistan, special attention is paid to such areas as the fundamental development of the higher education system, a sharp increase in the quality and effectiveness of higher education services, and the development of public-private partnerships (PPPs) as an important form of implementing social projects in higher educational institutions.

Keywords: public-private partnership, risk management in projects, educational services,

In the world, special attention is paid to the use of economic relations between the state and the private sector within the framework of social projects, especially the public-private partnership model, as an important mechanism for increasing the competitiveness of the market of educational services. "In economically developed countries, the share of the service sector in GDP is 60-80%, and investments in science and innovation are 3.0% of GDP, while 2/3 of all funds are accounted for by the entrepreneurial sector, and the share of public-private partnership projects in this sector is about 27.0%." Today, public-private partnership is becoming increasingly important as one of the important mechanisms (means) for increasing the competitiveness of educational services.

Public-private partnership in research on improving the quality and effectiveness of educational services in the world

"With the support of the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development and other organizations, within the framework of the program of projects implemented on the basis of public-private partnership in 2024-2030, a grant of 176 million US dollars has been allocated for higher educational institutions. "Construction of student dormitories for 17,000 places in the amount of US dollars." In solving these tasks, it is advisable to further expand the scope of scientific research on improving the mechanism of public-private partnership in the field of educational services and the scientific and methodological foundations for assessing the effectiveness of activities.

Decree of the President of the Republic of Uzbekistan dated October 8, 2019 No. UP-5847 "On Approving the Concept for the Development of the Higher Education System of the Republic of Uzbekistan until 2030,"

This research, to a certain extent, serves the implementation of the tasks defined in the Resolution of the President of the Republic of Uzbekistan dated October 20, 2018 No. PP-3980 "On Priority Measures to Create a Legal and Institutional Framework for the Development of Public-Private Partnership," the Resolution of the Cabinet of Ministers of the Republic of Uzbekistan dated April 26, 2020 No. 259 "On Improving the Procedure for Implementing Public-Private Partnership Projects," as well as in other regulatory legal acts related to this area. In these countries, the public-private partnership model is an effective way to finance higher education, create modern infrastructure, introduce new educational technologies, and improve the quality of personnel training for the labor market. such as Great Britain, USA, Germany and South Korea,
